POSITION

The Analyst or Senior Analyst is responsible for supporting government affairs and public policy projects in Thailand, across a variety of sectors and in a cross-cultural setting.

We expect the candidate to have proven capacity to drive projects to completion, work with nimble teams and external specialists of varying levels of seniority and expertise, and build and sustain external coalitions.

We prefer but do not require that the candidate have strong government experience and connections. Experience in either the government or in the private sector working with the government will be favorably considered.

We expect the candidate to be an adept analytical and strategic thinker, with strong English and Thai language writing skills. We expect the ability to synthesize complex information, draw conclusions, and to translate this into action. Clearly communicating plans of action to international professionals will be part of your daily work.

PRIMARY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Strategic counsel: Develop recommendations to facilitate client engagement with stakeholders to advance GR objectives in Thailand across various sectoral and policy issues.
- Research: Oversee the research and drafting of analytical reports.
- Client management: Serve as a point of contact with senior executives from multinational corporations across multiple projects.
- Government relations: Liaise and coordinate with officials at government agencies on behalf of clients.
- Firm representation: Represent V&P at external engagements, including business missions, meetings, workshops, and conferences.
- Business development: Supports proposal developments and meetings.

QUALIFICATIONS

- We prefer three to six years relevant work experience in an in-house government or external affairs role in a multi-national company, consulting, government, journalism, or think tanks, though we are also open to applications from newer graduates.
